[1]The date "1683/4" and the name "Maj^{r}: Maurice Matthews" have been scratched out here and "1684/5" and "Stephen Bull" interlined in their stead. But if these warrants were recorded a year or two after they had been issued and this one had been inadvertently recorded out of place the clerk failed to change the names of the governor and deputies while he was changing the date and name of the surveyor general. Morton had been succeeded as governor by Joseph West the latter part of 1684, and there had been two or three changes among the deputies.
